

FAQs – V Cert resources availability

603/7004/X Business and Enterprise: All teaching and learning materials are available to be downloaded from the NCFE website, Business and Enterprise – teaching materials.

603/7012/9 Child Development and Care in the Early Years: All teaching and learning materials are available to be downloaded from the NCFE website, Child Development and Care in the Early Years teaching materials.

603/7003/8 Creative Design and Production – unfortunately, there are no resources available for this V Cert yet.

- Why are resources not available for Creative Design and Production? We're sorry to confirm that our resource packs for Creative Design and Production will not be ready for this academic session.
Our resources will include detailed schemes of work, a PowerPoint presentation for every lesson and a learner workbook for each content area. They go through rigorous checking and quality assurance by subject matter experts to ensure they are fit for purpose. It was challenging to secure time with the subject matter experts of the calibre we required to rigorously quality assure our materials. As a result, there have been significant delays to our timelines in certain subjects.
- When will the resources be released? While we are working incredibly hard to get these completed and to you, we understand that this will be a huge disappointment. We intend to have full resource packs available by July 2023.
- Will there be any adjustments or special considerations given that we won't have full resources available for the start of the year and learners may be disadvantaged? As we do not expect any learners to be disadvantaged as a result of the full resources not being available, there won't be any adjustments or special considerations. While it may be disappointing that resources are not available, the qualification specification provides teaching guidance which can be used alongside the sample assessment materials to support delivery of the qualification. The free resources are not essential to the delivery of the qualification.

603/7006/3 Engineering – all teaching and learning materials are available to be downloaded from the NCFE website, Engineering teaching materials.

603/7014/1 Food and Cookery – all teaching and learning materials are available to be downloaded from the NCFE website, Food and Cookery teaching materials.

- When will the rest of the resources be released? Content Area 5 will follow by the end of July 2023.
- Why are resources delayed? Our resources go through rigorous checking and quality assurance by subject matter experts to ensure they are fit for purpose. It was challenging to secure time with the subject matter experts of the calibre we required to rigorously quality assure our materials. As a result, there have been significant delays to our timelines in certain subjects. We have prioritised getting the schemes of work and PowerPoint presentations completed ahead of the learner workbooks to ensure you have these as soon as possible to support lesson planning and delivery.
