Qualification document update

Qualification document	Support handbook
Summary of update	Updated NCFE assessment principles for adult care, childcare and health qualifications The accompanying mandatory support handbook for the delivery of qualifications has been revised to include updated assessment principles for adult care, childcare and health qualifications. This updated guidance contains additional clarity on: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• contractual arrangements for assessors</li> <li>• training requirements for assessors</li> <li>• examples of qualifications/roles that tutors/teachers/assessors may hold to be able to make decisions involving the assessment of learners</li> <li>• use of remote technology</li> </ul> These NCFE assessment principles replace the current NCFE assessment principles within the adult care, childcare and health qualification specifications, which will be updated in due course. However, centres should also conform to Sector Skills Council and/or NCFE assessment requirements for the unit they are assessing or quality assuring. For centres seeking further clarification they should contact their external quality assurer in the first instance.
Date amendment comes into effect	5 December 2022
