Learning for Work

The UK's leading awarding organisation for funded adult training

We're NCFE: an educational charity and leader in vocational and technical learning. We combine over 170 years of experience with deep insight, working with a network of expert collaborators to shape smarter solutions. In doing this, we're working for a fairer education system for all learners to power inclusivity and choice.

We were born in 1848 from the belief that no learner should be left behind. Today, we're taking up that cause with fresh energy.

Our market-leading adult education products support individuals to enter or re-enter the workplace and progress and excel within their careers, providing employers with a highly skilled and productive workforce.

Our diverse portfolio of qualifications and standalone units have been designed to address regional skills plans, fill key skills gaps and facilitate training at any point in an individual's life, helping to make education accessible for all and remove barriers for adults looking to progress in education, employment and life.

Our offering

We've conducted extensive research into the nation's skills gaps and looked to the needs of the current and future labour market so that we can offer a robust provision, including:

- CV writing
- Interview techniques
- Digital skills
- Business studies
- Health and social care
- and much more.

As we recover from post-pandemic uncertainty, furlough and redundancies, it's our mission to empower people to have a second chance – through addressing job displacement, combatting unemployment and facilitating retraining in a different sector.

Funded provision to give a helping hand

NCFE is the sector-leading provider of qualifications designed to support adults to enter and progress within the labour market, with more individuals enrolled on our funded adult education qualifications than any other awarding organisation.

We offer hundreds of funded qualifications to help make education accessible for all and remove barriers for adults looking to progress in education, employment and life.

Our diverse portfolio of qualifications and standalone units is fully aligned with skills-led recovery and multiple government-backed programmes, including both national skills agendas and regional skills priorities.

Adult Education Budget

National Adult Education Budget (AEB) funds the delivery of education and training for learners aged 19+ (in non-devolved regions). The funding can be accessed through local training providers or colleges who have won an AEB contract.

The national AEB funds the training of adults with employability skills. Colleges, independent training providers and local authorities can deliver these funded qualifications, providing learning opportunities across regions and communities. After completing AEB funded qualifications, adult learners should be able to progress into work or sign up to an apprenticeship.

You can check our funding spreadsheet to find out about our fundable qualifications – however, the most up to date information on those eligible qualifications can be found on the ESFA website.

Devolved AEB

On 1 August 2019, the AEB was apportioned between the ESFA and initially six mayoral combined authorities (MCAs) and the Greater London Authority (GLA). Since then, another four MCAs have been added.

The 10 devolved MCAs manage their own AEB budget so that they can prioritise their local skills needs. Providers who wish to deliver to learners residing in areas where the AEB funding support is devolved will need to discuss funding arrangements directly with the relevant authority.

Traineeships - 19 to 24 year olds

Traineeships are an education and training programme with work experience for young people whose preference is to find an apprenticeship or job, but who lack the skills, experience and behaviours sought by employers.

Unlike an apprenticeship, a traineeship is a programme of learning and skills development.

Traineeships are a focused, flexible offer with a direct line of sight to employment.

The aim of a traineeship is to secure young people's progression to a positive outcome as quickly as possible where they're not ready to take this step without the preparation that a traineeship provides.

Traineeships can last from six weeks up to one year (although most will last less than six months). They consist of four core elements:

- Work preparation training
- Work experience placement
- Maths, English and digital development
- Vocational training and qualifications.
