Section 1: introduction

If you are using this Qualification Specification for planning purposes, please make sure that you are using the most recent version.

Aims and objectives

This qualification aims to:

- focus on the study of teaching in further education
- offer breadth and depth of study, incorporating a key core of knowledge
- provide opportunities to acquire a number of practical and technical skills

The objective of this qualification is to:

• confirm occupational competence in a teaching role within the workplace

This qualification prepares trainee teachers to teach in a range of contexts. There is a significant practice requirement as this qualification will assess, and provide evidence of, competence when undertaking teaching and/or training responsibilities.

It can meet the needs of a range of trainee teachers, including:

- individuals who are not currently teaching and training but who can meet the practice requirements, including the observed and assessed practice requirements, of the qualification
- individuals who are currently teaching and training (including those who have just begun teaching and training) who can meet the practice requirements, including the observed and assessed practice requirements, of the qualification
- individuals who are currently working as assessors and who wish to achieve a teaching qualification

Support Handbook

This Qualification Specification must be used alongside the mandatory Support Handbook, which can be found on the NCFE website. This contains additional supporting information to help with planning, delivery and assessment.

This Qualification Specification contains all the qualification-specific information you will need that is not covered in the Support Handbook.

Guidance for entry and registration

This qualification is designed for those intending to work in the post-16 education and training sector.

Registration is at the discretion of the centre in accordance with equality legislation and should be made on the Portal.

Centres are responsible for ensuring that all learners are capable of achieving the learning outcomes (LOs) and complying with the relevant literacy, numeracy, and health and safety requirements. Learners should have achieved level 2 in mathematics and English prior to undertaking this qualification. A level of competence in digital skills is also required. Learners are not required to have achieved a Level 3 Award in Teaching or a Level 4 Certificate in Teaching before undertaking a Level 5 Diploma in Teaching. However, some learners may already have completed one or both of these qualifications. This is a level 5 qualification and therefore learners need to demonstrate an ability to study at level 5.

Learners registered on this qualification should not undertake another qualification at the same level, or with the same/a similar title, as duplication of learning may affect funding eligibility.

Achieving this qualification

To be awarded this qualification, learners are required to successfully achieve all 5 units/90 credits from the mandatory units and at least 3 units/30 credits from the 7 optional units.

Please refer to the list of units in appendix A or the unit summaries in section 2 for further information.

To achieve this qualification, learners must successfully demonstrate their achievement of all LOs of the units as detailed in this Qualification Specification. A partial certificate may be requested for learners who do not achieve their full qualification but have achieved at least one whole unit; partial achievement certificate fees can be found in the Fees and Pricing document on the NCFE website.

Progression including job roles

Learners who achieve this qualification could progress to the following:

- employment:
 - \circ as a tutor within:
 - further education colleges
 - adult and community education providers
 - offender education
 - work-based learning providers
 - the third/voluntary sector
 - independent training organisations
- higher education

Staffing requirements

This section is intended to give some guidance on the experience and qualifications needed to deliver and assess this qualification. Those who are delivering, assessing or quality assuring specialist optional units must also be suitably qualified in those areas (for example, English, mathematics, English for speakers of other languages (ESOL)).

Centres must provide sufficient numbers of suitably experienced assessors and internal quality assurers (IQAs) to ensure that qualifications are delivered effectively. NCFE cannot be held responsible for any complications that arise in the delivery or assessment process as a result of internal recruitment decisions. Staff recruitment should be made at the discretion of centres, and centres should be aware that it is their responsibility to ensure that all staff involved in the delivery and assessment of NCFE qualifications are suitably qualified.

Please contact our quality assurance team should you want to clarify a member of staff's suitability.

The mentoring and local support arrangements must be robust. All learners should have the support of two staff at their placement in addition to the support of their course tutor. The first is the subject specialist and they must be competent at teaching in the learner's subject area. This enables the provision of subject-specific support. This staff member must have time to support the learner (recommended 30 minutes per week) and additionally time to engage in assessment, particularly of the subject-specific element, refer to the reflective log within unit 04.

There is also a local pastoral support mentor for more general areas of advice and support. This mentor may support more than one learner in the placement. Again, this mentor must have sufficient time to support learners (recommended 30 minutes per learner per week). This mentor would be expected to liaise with the centre re ongoing learner progress reports. Where the placement is small and resources are insufficient, the mentoring role can be undertaken by a member of centre staff providing that sufficient additional time is allocated to this role.

All centres offering the qualification are required to provide adequate training to all placement mentors/subject specialists to ensure they are suitably trained to meet the needs of learners.

Resource requirements

To assist in the delivery of this qualification, learners should have access to the following mandatory resources:

- appropriate IT and research facilities, including relevant trade publications and educational journals
- appropriately resourced teaching rooms and facilities
- a range of individuals and groups as needed to enable them to evidence their teaching practice requirements

The following documents are mandatory reading for any centre involved in the delivery, assessment and administration of this qualification:

- the Education and Training Foundation framework
- further education and skills inspection handbook

Work/industry placement experience

This qualification requires learners to complete a mandatory work/industry placement experience throughout the duration of the qualification before certification.

Placement

The minimum required placement hours are 250 hours. This must include:

- at least 150 hours of teaching practice, of these:
 - o at least 100 hours must be in the learner's subject area
 - a minimum of 20 hours of remote synchronous (live) delivery should be included, alongside a minimum of 80 hours face-to-face delivery

The balance, constituting professional practice, includes activities such as team meetings, planning, interviews, assessment meetings, observations, centre wide sessions (for example, continuing professional development (CPD)). The purpose of the professional practice hours is to gain a full sense of the wider activities of a teacher on a day-to-day basis.

The placement requirement includes a minimum of two locations: the learner should gain experience in more than one teaching location. The second placement must be for at least 20 hours and ideally would be at a different centre but in extremis at a large centre, could include a different subject area and/or venue in the same centre. It should be noted that the 20 hours at the second placement are not specified as teaching hours so could be observation, CPD and other activities to give a sense of the approach within that area.

Age ranges covered by the qualification

This qualification has been developed for those intending to work in the post-16 further education and training sector.

How the qualification is assessed

Assessment is the process of measuring a learner's skill, knowledge and understanding against the standards set in a qualification.

This qualification is internally assessed and externally quality assured.

The assessment consists of one component:

• an internally assessed portfolio of evidence, which is assessed by centre staff and externally quality assured by NCFE (internal quality assurance must still be completed by the centre as usual)

Learners must be successful in this component to gain the Level 5 Diploma in Teaching (Further Education and Skills).

This qualification must be assessed in line with the Education and Training Foundation's framework for teaching in further education.

The professional practice portfolio, unit 04, has specific assessment requirements:

- the learner must complete and evidence all their practice hours as stated elsewhere
- the learner must complete a portfolio of evidence relating to the placements, which is submitted to the module assessors

The Level 5 Diploma in Teaching (Further Education and Skills) is a competence-based qualification (CBQ). A CBQ may be based on National Occupational Standards (NOS) and is a job-ready qualification that requires learners to demonstrate the skills and knowledge required to work in a specific industry. A CBQ must be assessed in the workplace. For further information on the strategy, please visit the qualification's page on the NCFE website.

There must be a minimum of 10 observations to groups of at least 10 learners. This excludes any observed practice completed as part of the Level 3 Award in Education and Training or previous relevant qualifications. Any single observation must be a minimum of 45 minutes. Up to two observations may be of live remote delivery, one other session may be observed remotely but the arrangements must be made for prompt feedback and discussion. The observations should be conducted by the centre tutor and/or the subject specialist/placement mentor.

The tutor should provide an observation report to be included in the professional portfolio stating (if appropriate) that the learner has met the knowledge, skills and behaviours relating to teaching practice. This assessment will be confirmed via the final professional discussion element of the assessment of the professional practice portfolio unit (unit 04).

Observations should be appropriately spaced throughout the whole programme and take into account a learner's progress. Centres should refer to Ofsted's further education and skills inspection handbook to help them to make a judgement about whether a learner has met the required standard of practice in an observation.

Although recorded sessions are not suitable for formal observations, as a learning tool they can be encouraged. Applications may include:

- to enable learners to see themselves teaching for self-reflection
- a learner recording a session to show their application of a particular theory or technique
- to demonstrate a learner's ability to reflect on performance

Learners who are not successful can resubmit work within the registration period; however, a charge may apply in cases where additional external quality assurance visits are required.

All the evidence generated by the learner will be assessed against the standards expected of a level 5 learner for each LO.

Unless otherwise stated in this specification, all learners taking this qualification must be assessed in English and all assessment evidence presented for external quality assurance must be in English.

Internal assessment

Each learner must create a portfolio of evidence generated from appropriate assessment tasks to demonstrate achievement of all the LOs associated with each unit. On completion of each unit, learners must declare that the work produced is their own and the assessor must sign this.

If a centre needs to create their own internal assessment tasks, there are four essential elements in the production of successful centre-based assessment tasks; these are:

- ensuring the assessment tasks are meaningful with clear, assessable outcomes
- appropriate coverage of the content, LOs or assessment criteria (AC)
- having a valid and engaging context or scenario
- including sufficient opportunities for stretch and challenge for higher attainers

Please see the guidance document for creation of internal assessment tasks on the NCFE website.

Please refer to the Education and Training Foundation's guidance for qualifications in education and training for further information. This can be found on the qualification's page on the NCFE website.

Assessors can use other methods of assessment as long as they are valid and reliable and maintain the integrity of the assessment and of the standards required of this qualification

Section 2: unit content and assessment guidance

This section provides details of the structure and content of this qualification.

The types of evidence listed are for guidance purposes only. Within learners' portfolios, other types of evidence are acceptable if all learning outcomes (LOs) are covered, and if the evidence generated can be internally and externally quality assured. For approval of methods of internal assessment other than portfolio building, please contact your external quality assurer (EQA).

The explanation of terms explains how the terms used in the unit content are applied to this qualification. This can be found in section 3.

Unit 01 Teaching my subject (M/651/0308)

Unit summary This unit aims to develop learners' knowledge, professional practice and skills in relation to teaching in a specialist area. The specialist area may be a vocational or subject area. The unit considers the philosophical and curriculum issues relating to education and teaching. It explores key qualifications, pedagogic content and curriculum development, which can enhance and sustain the learner's specialist area and progression.

Assessment
This unit is internally assessed and externally quality assured.
Mandatory	Achieved/not yet achieved	Level 5	15 credits	50 GLH

Assessment criteria (AC)
The learner can:
1.1 Explain key aims of education and teaching in own specialist area
1.2 Analyse philosophical issues relating to education and teaching in own specialist area
1.3 Summarise wider/prerequisite knowledge required prior to teaching
1.4 Describe progression opportunities in relation to own subject area for learners
2.1 Describe the aims and structure of key qualifications in own
specialist area
2.2 Describe the aims and structure of learning programmes in own
specialist area
3.1 Explain how own approach to the planning and preparation of a learning programme in own specialist area takes account of key/significant curriculum issues to consider principles of designing, planning and organising curriculum 4.1 Review ways to access personal and professional development to ensure and maintain subject expertise and sector-specific currency 4.2 Identify own strengths and areas for improvement in relation to practice in a specialist area
4.3 Identify opportunities to improve and update own knowledge and skills in a specialist area
5.1 Demonstrate sustainable ways of working in a specialist area
5.2 Summarise government initiatives designed to promote sustainability in schools and colleges

Range

3. Understand curriculum development and pedagogic content knowledge

3.1 Key/significant curriculum issues could include but are not limited to:

- English and mathematics coverage and contextualisation
- the role of new and emerging technologies
- threshold concepts and troublesome areas/knowledge to teach

4. Understand how to evaluate, improve and update own knowledge and skills in a specialist area

4.1 Review:

The learner must complete a skills matrix/skills audit.

4.2 Improvement:

Improvements to planning could include:

- tutor/mentor support
- planning models
- internal quality assurance feedback
- time management
- contribution to team projects/planning tasks
- identification of online learning resources
- strategies for quality improvement

Improvement to delivering inclusive teaching and learning could include:

- use of technology to support and enhance teaching and learning
- peer teaching
- observation of experienced teachers
- mentoring/coaching support from advanced practitioners

Improvements to assessing practices could include:

- continuing professional development (CPD) to update occupational competence including strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats (SWOT) analysis
- completion of recognised assessor qualification
- attendance to awarding body webinars and training events
- internal quality assurance/external quality assurance feedback
- updating knowledge of assessment guidance within Qualification Specification
- participation in standardisation events with colleagues and experienced teachers/trainers
- professional development plan

Evidence must include:

- scheme of work (produced by learner)
- teaching and learning plans

Evidence could include:

- assignment
- learner report
- individual or small group presentation
- research project
- professional discussion
- teaching portfolio evidence, such as:
 - sample of resources (used in own teaching practice)
 - o sample diagnostic, formative, summative assessment activities
 - o learner trackers
 - o records of achievement
- records of internal/external quality assurance
- personal reflective diary/log
- observations of teaching practice

Delivery and assessment guidance

Evidence must include observation of teaching practice.

AC5.1

Learners could consider sustainability implications and engagement with the sustainability development goals in the NCFE early years sustainability resource. The linked resource has been developed by NCFE to raise awareness of sustainability for young children with direct links made to the 17 Sustainable Development Goals. Although a younger learner age bracket, this could be used as a starting point within independent research or to support a comparison. Learners may also consider goal 4 (quality education) of the UNICEF sustainable development goals. This could also include sustainable ways of working. The Environmental Association for Universities and Colleges (EAUC) offers resources on sustainability in education and a perspective for older learners and students will find both resources useful when discussing sustainability in education with their learners.

 Individual needs:

Meeting individual needs could include:

- personalised feedback
- assessment for learning
- formative assessment to check and correct
- methods for creating and adapting inclusive learning resources

3. Understand factors that influence learning

- 3.1 Background and experiences could include but are not limited to:
- socio-economic
- cultural and personal background
- work history
- adverse childhood experiences
- educational achievement and experiences

4. Understand how to create and maintain a safe and inclusive environment

4.1 Policies could include but are not limited to:

- safeguarding and the Prevent duty
- Data Protection Act 2018 (especially with the need to be able to communicate virtually)
- teaching, learning and assessment
- continuing professional development (CPD)
- additional learning support provision
- e-safety and acceptable use of IT
- assessment
- malpractice and maladministration
- health and safety

4.1 Regulatory frameworks could include but are not limited to:

- Office for Standards in Education, Children's Services and Skills (Ofsted)
- Office for Students (OfS)
- Institute for Apprenticeships and Technical Education (IfATE)
- Department for Education (DfE)
- Office of Qualifications and Examinations Regulation (Ofqual)

4.2 Promote equality and value diversity:

Ways to promote equality and value diversity could include but are not limited to:

- flexibility in approaches, including the use of technology to deliver online and face-to-face teaching sessions
- actively engaging all learners in face-to-face and online teaching sessions
- empowering learners
- modelling expected behaviours
- challenging stereotypes
- swift response to challenging behaviours and discrimination
- promotion of equality and diversity in line with current legislation such as safeguarding
- adapting teaching and learning approaches to take into account individual needs
- innovative use of technology to engage learners
- use of peer teaching and peer assessment

4.3 Safe and supportive learning environment could include but is not limited to:

- communicating key government policy to learners, parents and others involved in the learning journey (for example, workplace staff)
- legal requirements
- current policies such as safeguarding and the Prevent duty
- organisational policies and procedures
- modelling of expected behaviours
- physical environment:
 - risk assessment including checks to equipment, ventilation, lighting, layout
 - face-to-face and online/remote learning environments:
 - o modelling of effective practice in relation to safeguarding, equality and diversity

6. Understand the role and currency of research and evidence

6.1 Theories, principles and models of learning could include but are not limited to:

- learning theory such as:
 - o andragogy
 - o behaviourism (Skinner, Pavlov)
 - learner-based models (Dewey, Rogers)
 - psychological constructivism (Piaget)
 - social constructivism (Bruner, Vygotsky)
 - scaffolding learning (Bruner, Vygotsky)
 - mastery learning (Bloom)
 - skills development (Gagne)
 - situated learning approaches (Lave, Wenger)
 - o formal versus non-formal learning (Eraut)
 - experiential learning (Kolb)
 - multiple intelligences (Gardner)
 - humanist approaches (Maslow, Rogers)
 - motivation theory (Herzberg, McGregor, Maslow)
 - social learning theory (Bandura)
 - o competency-based models
- technology-based approaches to teaching and learning such as:
 - connectivism (Siemens)
 - o substitution, augmentation, modification and redefinition (SAMR) model (Puentedura)
 - technological, pedagogical and content knowledge (TPACK) (Mishra and Koehler)

6.2 Pedagogical theory could include but is not limited to:

- active engagement in online/remote learning
- blended learning
- theories of specialist knowledge
- experiential learning
- taxonomy of learning
- scaffolded learning
- multi-sensory models

6.3 Models of learning preferences could include but are not limited to:

- Honey and Mumford
- Kolb
- Kirschner
- visual, auditory, reading/writing and kinesthetic (VARK)
- Gardner's multiple intelligences
- Coffield et al, critique of learning styles

6.6 Theories, principles and models of communication could include but are not limited to:

- stages of development (Piaget)
- transactional analysis (Berne)

- Johari Window model
- Shannon and Weaver model
- simple measure of gobbledygook (SMOG) readability measurement
- distance/remote learning communication channels

Models of communication need to be applied in both face-to-face and online settings.

6.7 Theories and models of assessment could include but are not limited to:

- stages of assessment (screening, initial, diagnostic, formative, summative)
- forms of assessment (peer, self, criteria referenced, normative referenced)
- assessment for learning, assessment as learning and assessment of learning (Black and Wiliam)
- methods of assessment
- formal and informal assessment
- valid, authentic, reliable, current, sufficient (VARCS)
- e-assessment and e-portfolios
- 2-way feedback/360-degree feedback
- holistic assessment

6.8 Theories and models of curriculum development could include but are not limited to:

- theories and principles:
 - o humanist, behaviourist, cognitive
 - mastery (for example, Bloom)
 - curriculum models (for example, subject based process model, objectives-based model, expressive model, problem-centred model)
 - o employability
 - o subject, learner or problem-centred
- models:
 - o national and local economic policy
 - national curriculum
 - 14 to 19 curriculum
 - o apprenticeships
 - o T Levels
 - o sector skills councils
 - o modular, unit-based, end-loaded, holistic assessment opportunities
 - o distance learning
 - o blended learning
 - o alternative provisions

7. Understand theories and models for reflection

- 7.1 Theories and models of reflection could include but are not limited to:
- reflective cycle (Gibbs)
- learning/reflective cycle (Kolb)
- reflection in action and reflection on action (Schon)
- reflective thought (Dewey)
- plan, do, review (Greenaway)

Range
1. Understand the role of the class teacher
1.1 Role and responsibilities:
Learners must analyse their own role and the responsibilities of their role within an education and training setting.
Responsibilities could include:
maintaining occupational competence
identifying learner needs
 planning, tracking and monitoring learner progress establishing and maintaining safe and appropriate learning environment negotiating ground rules, promoting positive behaviour adhering to legislation, promoting organisation policies and procedures communication and work with others recruitment and marketing
2. Understand strategies to support effective teaching and learning in the classroom

The requirements and implications of organisational policies and procedures, such as internal and external regulatory bodies and frameworks.
Internal requirements could include but are not limited to:
 delivery model (face-to-face and online) embedding of English, mathematics and digital skills current educational government initiatives such as safeguarding and Prevent duty

External requirements could include but are not limited to:

- vocational standards for T Level and apprenticeship programmes
- proportion of content that can be taught online/face-to-face
- inspection requirements such as Ofsted and awarding organisations

3.2 Teaching and learning plans that:

- meet the individual goals and needs of all learners through a person-centred face-to-face approach
- meet the requirements of the curricula
- provide for an agile curriculum that is adaptive to the needs of all children and demonstrate individualised support for learners including those with special educational needs and disabilities (SEND)
- provide for learners with mental health needs
- provide opportunity for remote delivery of assessment and feedback
- provide for English, mathematics and digital skills to be embedded in resources that are responsive to their individual learning need
- 4. Understand the role of communication for effective teaching and learning

4.1 Effective communication:

Communication with learners to meet individual needs could include but is not limited to:

- awareness of how to communicate in online platforms, (for example, to remain on mute, raise hand)
- use of appropriate language and level
- two-way communication to encourage ownership
- acknowledge learner contributions
- impact of body language
- modelling expected behaviours

Communication with learning professionals could include but is not limited to:

- awareness of how to communicate in online platforms, (for example, to remain on mute, raise hand)
- discussions with colleagues, specialists, programme leaders, employers, work placement, mentors, specialist training providers, support agencies, tutors, parents/guardians
- professionalism

Communication explanations could include but are not limited to:

- identification and removal of barriers to communication
- communication as a two-way process to empower the learner
- the use and development of subject-specific language
- 4.1 Others could include but is not limited to:
- communicating with parents and carers, employers and work-based learning mentors (staff)
- negotiating industry placements
- communication techniques and how to adapt these for different audiences, including leading difficult conversations
- 4.1 Learning needs could include but are not limited to:
- individual learning needs

- building independence
- supporting the development of metacognition
- person-centred approaches

Delivery and assessment guidance

AC3.1 and AC3.2

A minimum of 10 session plans are required.

Unit 04 Professional practice portfolio (D/651/0311)

Unit summary This unit explores and records the professional skills required for the role of the teacher in further education. It is recommended that this unit is undertaken as a longitudinal unit to allow for competence over time. The unit, broken down into three areas, will require competence in teaching practice, being a professional and the further education and skills sector. See placement requirements from section 1. Assessment

This unit is internally assessed and externally quality assured.

- learner attendance to team meetings

4.5 Minimise the impact of barriers to learning:

Consideration of the design and use of resources that are inclusive and add value to learners' development.

5. Be able to teach independently
 5.1 Session plans:

The session plans must show how English and mathematics is contextualised in a way that promotes understanding of key topics, and uses a variety of teaching and assessment methods to provide ongoing learner feedback depending on the learning environment and learners' needs.

5.2 Plan, lead and evaluate:

Preparation materials that must be included in this section include evidence of own practice in the following aspects of teaching:

- curriculum planning and review including evidence of a scheme of work and lessons that have been selected for teaching sessions
- lesson planning and adaptations with examples of how individual learning needs of learners have been met including purposeful use of the results of initial and diagnostic assessment to plan learning and differentiated support at the start of and throughout the learner's journey
- adapt communication style, method and terminology to reflect the needs of the audience including individual learners, colleagues and stakeholders
- planning and conducting assessment with clear rationale to maximise innovative motivational learning
- encourage learners to develop:
 - autonomy and resilience
 - o personal and interpersonal effectiveness
 - o social awareness and respect for others
 - essential employability skills
 - o a solutions mindset
 - o the ability to create change
- using assessment to inform planning including adaptations to original teaching and learning session plans with clear rationales
- assessment feedback and advice/guidance to include learner evaluation of learning and assessment
- use assessment data to regularly review and develop own and others' practice and to report emerging gaps in progression and achievement amongst groups of learners
- application of evidence-based methods to include a reflective account of how own practice build from evidence-based practice in relation to own subject and teaching practice
- managing and supporting learners including behaviour to include a reflective account of how inclusive engagement and motivation has been upheld in teaching and learning sessions
- engage learners to establish a set of standards for behaviour, mutual respect and safe working
- 6. Be able to demonstrate the role and responsibilities of a professional teacher in further education

6.1 Action plan:

Create plans that demonstrate a capability to act within the statutory frameworks, which set out the professional duties and responsibilities.

6.6 Equality and diversity:

Ways to promote equality and diversity could include but are not limited to:

- flexibility in approaches, including the use of technology to deliver online and face-to-face teaching sessions
- actively engaging all learners in face-to-face and online teaching sessions
- empowering learners
- modelling expected behaviours
- challenging stereotypes
- swift response to challenging behaviours and discrimination

7. Be able to apply understanding of further education and skills sector provision

7.1 Overview of further education and skills sector provision to include:

- types of programmes
- timetables
- contracts
- government policy
- regulations (legal and local)
- funding
- organisational and wider support including policy and procedural guidance to support:
 - o the implementation and execution of safeguarding procedures
 - promotion for the welfare of children, young people and/or adults in accordance with statutory provisions
- comply with internal and external regulations, legislation and guidance such as:
 - teaching, learning and assessment
 - o recording, storing and sharing information relating to learners

Delivery and assessment guidance

The LOs must be assessed in a teaching and learning environment. Simulation is not permitted.

There is a requirement to observe and assess practice in this unit. For the knowledge and understanding aspects of this unit, a range of assessment evidence can be used as long as the assessment criteria (AC) are covered and the evidence generated can be internally and externally quality assured. See placement requirements in section 1 for further guidance on practice and observation hours required for the qualification.

AC1.1

Ensure these include both face-to-face and online micro teach sessions.

AC2.4 Log to consider:

- attendance
- topic, review
- challenges
- action plan/next steps
- mentor discussion notes

Delivery and assessment guidance

AC3.1

These observations could take place during unit 01 and include a minimum of three formal observations.

AC4.1

A minimum of four co-teaching experiences to be undertaken.

AC6.7

Requiring records of reflections shared with mentor to be kept in placement log.
