Allergen Policy

We provide the highest quality of flavours at the lowest cost so that you get the most value. By using our dedicated distribution, we can ensure further quality and safety of our flavours and reduce risks of any type of cross-contamination. We use our expertise in flavour science to make flavours that taste like the real thing without the need for real ingredients allowing us to deliver such great prices. Because of this, we are proud to say that we are a completely free of the top 14 recognised allergens.

We constantly review our product labelling in accordance with our customer and Government requirements.
